Red Home - Colonizing Mars

Synopsis

Mars is the center of much hype about conceivable human colonization. Its surface conditions and the vicinity of water on Mars make it seemingly the most accommodating of the planets in the Solar System, other than Earth. Mars requires less vitality per unit mass (delta-v) to reach from Earth than any planet aside from Venus. On the other hand, an excursion to Mars requires 6â “7 months in space utilizing current concoction shuttle routines. Different difficulties of human missions to Mars will be explained throughout this book with their realistic expectations. Thanks to books and films such as 'The Martian', the desire to send a manned mission to Mars has grown even higher.
