Gary and his brother have paddled every river and creek that is described in this book. If you plan on running any Utah river and creek, this is the guide to use for specific beta, when the best running time frames are (cfm wise), all permit requirements, put-ins and take-outs and all geography characteristics that may preclude a good time. Get it and take it with you! Awesome detailed route maps that can't be beat.

More of an overview than I was looking for, fairly skimpy on details on particular areas, such as Cataract Canyon (only 2 pages). Great if you live in UT and canoe lots of different places, not good if you're taking a trip to a particular area. The Cataract Canyon book and the Belknap guide are much better for that area.

It was great!! Someone else thought so also. So they stole it.
